I sat in the cafeteria facing a busy hallway near the entrance. Though I could only film in the late afternoon, with not as many people walking around on campus, I saw at least 20 plastic straw users in about a 40-minute time span (about 5 people using plastic straws during my 15 minute time lapse. I was surprised to find about double that amount of people using plastic bottles too- which also contribute to plastic pollution. I work at a bar and grill, and my next personal task (since the owner is my godmother) is to stop, or at least heavily reduce the amount of plastic straws used at the bar- they must use at least hundreds a day. So, next I plan to eliminate/reduce the plastic straw usage at my work.
