Here is a video I made and posted on FB. Photos and the video from the fastfood are mine but the rest of the infographics are not.

Here are the people I am hoping to go #stopsucking with me.

I tried to follow the link to make the url but “the site couldn’t be reached”.

I also sent messages to local establishments. Three responded so far:
Café Diem and Old Hat (in Iloilo City, Philippines) and Sandok (in Bacolod City, Philippines)

Good day! I am a Philippine Science High School student. Right now I am joining an international challenge with environmentally-themed activities. Recently we have been made aware of the possible negative effects of plastic straws to the environment. Please watch this video: <https://youtu.be/CAghM1HFvRE>

I know your cafe is slowly making its mark in our area. Would you consider a "no straw" policy in your establishment? Or, you could provide paper straws to customers but only upon request. Please let me know what you think. Thank you for considering doing a good thing for our environment. More power!

Hello Johannes, thank you for your strong conviction towards protecting the environment. We have things in the pipeline to support your cause as we too are very much inclined towards protecting the environment.

Things on the works include reusable metal straws, paper straws and special discounts for those who bring their own straws or purchase from us.

Thank you for your kind reminder. How we wish more of our consumers and patrons had the same mindset as yours.

Seize the day and Kudos to you!

Paper straws would be better. But we can't find a supplier here. What we do though to minimize the usage is we do not givr straws unless requested.

Thanks for messaging us. We try to be as responsive as possible. We'll get back to you soon.

I am hoping that when I visit these places again, I do see the commitment to #stopsucking .
