I went to my local smoothie shop called the Neighborhood juicery. I sat in the corner and watched people come in and order. The Neighborhood Juicery has biodegradable plastic cups and bowls but uses normal straws. They do not offer any reusable options. I sat in the corner of the shop from 4:30pm to 4:50pm and I saw 20 items ordered. 12 people ordered smoothies and 1 person ordered a kombucha all with straws. The rest of the items were smoothie bowls without straws. When I was walking I ran into my friend who had already gotten a smoothie with a straw and I asked her about it. She said in general she doesn't think to about the straw when ordering and didn't think about the straws unnecessary impact on the environment. Reflecting on it now she pledged from now on to go strawless. I got 11 of my friends to pledge to stop using straws .

thsenvironmental 500 million straws are used everyday and most of them go into the ocean and kill sea animals. Stop using disposable straws, stop sucking. DO IT FOR GERALD. #stopsucking #PGC2017 @turninggreenorg
