Watercolor Poster

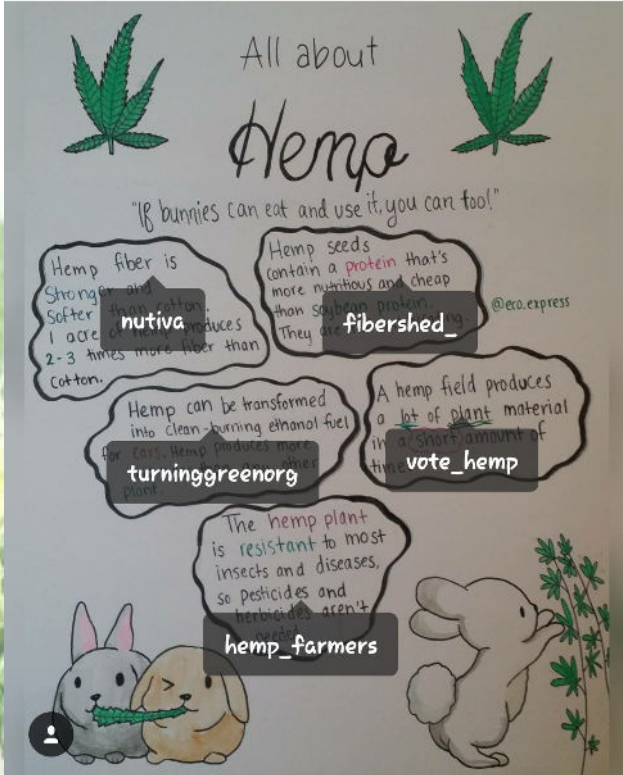

Since not that many people know about hemp, I wanted to present my poster in a cute and engaging way. Therefore, I looked up animals that ate hemp, and I found bunnies. Bunnies are really cute, and I had a fun time drawing them!

While making my poster, I realized that hemp does have a lot of uses, and I think that we should try and advocate for a future of hemp.

eco.express Hemp is a very versatile material and can be used to make items from household goods, to clothes, to food. Did you know that hemp has GLA (gamma-linolenic acid), a very healthy unsaturated fat found in breast milk? In addition, unused hemp stalks can STORE ENERGY! Hemp is cheap and grows fast, so it has the opportunity to be out future!
