

Day 9 Challenge - Greener

Product: Yes To Tomatoes Detoxifying Charcoal Cleanser

Overall Hazard Rating: 9

Hazardous Ingredients: Fragrance, Glyceryl Undecylenate, Sodium Coco-Sulfate

Fragrance has the highest hazard rating of 9. It is rated 9 because there is no definite list of ingredients which make up the fragrance in this product. Companies are not required to list what their fragrance is made of which most of the time is a mix of natural and synthetic ingredients. Usually fragrance contains phthalates which are harmful constituents.

Alternative: Acure Organics Facial Cleansing Creme Argan Oil and Mint

Found on: Think Dirty App

Cost: Yes To Tomatoes Cleanser - $9.52

Acure Cleanser - $9.99

The Acure Cleanser is a safer and healthier choice because:

All of it's ingredients are considered clean on the Think Dirty App meaning they pose almost no harm to myself or the environment.

This product is known to be organic whereas when I purchased the Yes To Tomatoes product I wasn't thinking about whether it was organic or not. No where on the bottle does it say it's organic so I know that the Acure Cleanser is much safer for the environment.

I will make the switch. This was my first time buying the Yes To Tomatoes Cleanser because before I was using my dad's facial wash which I soon realized was very harmful to my sensitive skin. I bought this cleanser hoping that it would be better for my skin type not thinking about how the ingredients could be harmful by themselves. Since these products are practically the same price, once I am done using the Yes To Tomatoes cleanser, I will definitely switch to the Acure cleanser.
