

Ashley Liu

greenasl

University High School

aslorange61@gmail.com

 ashley.pgc2019 ...

 ashley.pgc2019 PGC Day 25 Greenest || Eco Hero
As an eco-hero, I will value the facts. Climate change is real. So is rising sea level. So is increased temperature. And so is environmental injustice. But we need to take these facts and take actions. That is why I believe in the power of individuals. Each of us holds the power to make a change, no matter how small or big. Last but not least, I will value community the most. It is truly empowering to see groups of people from all walks of life striving to reach a shared purpose: to better the Earth and the people. Today, I am proud to be an eco-hero, but I will never stop learning to become better everyday. Nor will I ever stop loving this valuable journey!

Be the first to like this

 ashley.pgc2

 ashley.pgc2 || Eco Hero
As an eco-hero, I will value the facts. Climate change is real. So is rising sea level. So is increased temperature. And so is environmental injustice. But we need to take these facts and take actions. That is why I believe in the power of individuals. Each of us holds the power to make a change, no matter how small or big. Last but not least, I will value community the most. It is truly empowering to see groups of people from all walks of life striving to reach a shared purpose: to better the Earth and the people. Today, I am proud to be an eco-hero, but I will never stop learning to become better everyday. Nor will I ever stop loving this valuable journey!

Be the first to like this

3 MINUTES AGO
Add a comment...

In the past 25 days, I have experienced what it means to be an eco-hero. Project Green Challenge has given me so many opportunities to enrich my understanding of the community and the world around me. One specific moment when I truly felt like an eco hero was the very first day of the challenge, the Why. Before October 1st, the first day of challenge, I was passionate about the environment and sustainability but never really wanted to step out of my comfort zone. When I came across Project Green Challenge, the immediate feelings I had were scared, nervous, and uncertainty. I had no clue as to what I will be doing, how much time commitment this challenge will be, or what lies ahead of me. Yet, despite all those doubts and ambivalent feelings cycling through my mind, I did something I will forever be proud and unforgettable: taking the first baby step. I dived into the first day of the challenge by describing my passion towards the environment in the Green and Greener challenge. 25 days later, I am looking at how much Project Green Challenge has helped me cultivate confidence, strength, and personal growth.

As an eco-hero, I will value the facts. Climate change is real. So is rising sea level. So is increased temperature. And so is environmental injustice. But we need to take these facts and take action. That is why I believe in the power of individuals. Each of us holds the power to make a change, no matter how small or big. Last but not least, I will value community the most. It is truly empowering to see groups of people from all walks of life striving to reach a shared purpose: to better the Earth and the people.

Today, I am proud to be an eco-hero, but I will never stop learning to become better everyday. Nor will I ever stop loving this valuable journey I am taking.