Email draft:

Good morning,

I am participating in the Project Green Challenge this year and as part of today's challenge we are supposed to research a part of our community that could be improved as a green space. For this I researched downtown Vancouver, specifically West Georgia Street. I am emailing you as part of this challenge to ask about what you may be considering doing about this area, and whether you think it should stay as a makeshift dog park/gravel field or if it has the potential to turn into a better community space. Here is a slideshow on it that my team created.

Thank you so much for your time,
Eva

Looks great. The ecological emergency we are facing demands that we use every tool in our toolbox. Don't forget to vote today! If you're still undecided about who to vote for for mayor, here's a video interview I did on Wednesday where you can learn more about me and my platform.
