

Greener- Day 19- Nature

1.- How the rights of nature movement in your region can evolve and follow examples to grow?

Through all these years, Mexico has been working in the part of the environment in order to have politics which protect natural resources, the harmony between human beings and nature, the different species that live in the ecosystems, etc. All of this, for giving to the citizens, rights related of having an environment with a great quality.

Furthermore, Mexico has been applying different politics, since this country has participated in conventions that they main topic is related to the solution of the environmental issues. Some of these conventions are: "Convención Marco de las Naciones Unidas" (CMNUCC), "Convenio sobre la Diversidad Biológica" (CDB), the different COPS, etc.

So, we consider that Mexico is evolving in the aspects related to the protection of nature, however it would be great for this country to show the results of the working all of us have been doing, and to start participating in more actions or activities, since all Mexico must contribute in the improvement of a great quality in the environment.

2.- How the rights of nature movement is already affecting your country or region?

The rights of protecting the nature, has impacted in the majority of the citizens, because nowadays we are more aware about the consequences of the human activities, also we have been changing a little bit our lives, because we don't have access to the same things as before. For example, animals are a fundamental aspect in the nature, and we used to see them in circuses, but a politic was introduced some years ago, which was related to the avoiding of using animals in circles; with that we realized that for animals weren't funny to be there, and we comprehend how bad we were for participating in those activities.

Also, we consider that these environmental rights and policies have changed the way we care the nature, because the government has created some policies that are related to the protection of the water (rivers, oceans, lakes), the care of the soil (to preserve the flora of an area), the reduction of greenhouse gases, the applying of the three R's in some companies, etc. So this has caused that the people are obligated to follow these policies and some of them also, have felt inspired and have started their own associations in order for keep the environment safe from people who only want their natural resources for making money.

3.- Finally, introduce us to the team, person or organization pushing for this policy. Consider how communities around the globe can learn from the examples of bold, innovative policy makers.

One of the organization that had been pushing this policy is The Congress of the State of Oaxaca, which is a non-profit association that is looking to protect the environment and its components; in this case, this association has created some policies which are: “The right to the preservation”, “The right to protection of its elements”, “The right to exercise its vital and natural cycles and its ecological functions”, “The right to integral restoration of its ecological balance”, etc.

Oaxaca, has established this in order for achieving a healthy environment for the present and future generations, and because with that, this state will protect the factors that provide it a unique essence, which are the animals, plants and culture.

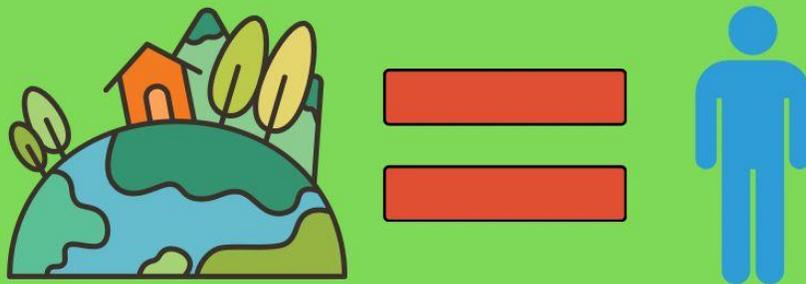

One of the benefits of the decision taken by Oaxaca, is that this state is going to influence in the other ones, by giving theme some advices or methods/techniques to be a greener state; also the other states of the country will be interested in applying the same policies in its own area, because they will see the great results of having a harmony between the human beings and nature.

Post:

Introduction

The Rights of Nature are the recognition and dignity that it deserves, it is the recognition that has been given to our ecosystems, including trees, oceans, animals.

In order to provide a better world.

What's happening around the planet?

Cases such as the Constitutional reform implemented in Oaxaca, Mexico are being adopted by other countries in order to assure a better quality of life and having the access to outdoor activities

Stipulated by Oaxaca Congress
(2022):

Right to preservation and protection,

Right to exercise

Right to be represented

Why is this important?

Imagine a world of chaos where everyone is dominated by selfishness and all the rights of our nature are violated. We need nature, but we keep damaging it, does it sound to you?

The bad thing is that most of the time these principles of preservation and care of nature are violated and this brings consequences to our lives.
