This is our “found trash” artwork, which depicts a scene of ducks sitting in a pond of water surrounded by greenery on both sides. We incorporated the graphics on the food wrappers of the snack trash, as seen by the ducks and the bows that represent the greenery. The candles and candle wax represent the colors of both the water and the land, as seen by the blue and green candles. Lastly, the silica packets were put under the plastic film to add more color to the greenery elements, and the plastic film was used to tie the pieces together.
