Outdoors

GREENER - 40 POINTS

Reflection:

This post of @latinooutdoors caught our attention mainly because of the dynamics shown in the image, as Mexicans we always like to fill with memories wherever we go and have a good time with little games that give excitement and joy to any situation. It shows "La loteria" a very fun game and usually played in family, and what makes it even more special is the place where it is played. Connecting and appreciating our surroundings is one of the most beautiful things we can do to realize how fortunate we are for the diversity of species around us. Undoubtedly, the combination of enjoying friends and family while enjoying the grass, sunshine, the sound of birds, among other things that only nature gives us every day, with the best company and the best dynamics to laugh and get excited together.

One way to expand the accessibility of the outdoors is by moving your indoors plans into a outdoor experience, when inviting your friends just to chat get your favorite coffee and enjoyed it together in the park or even your backyard, remember to always be responsible with your waste!! Give yourself the opportunity to try new things with your favorite people outdoors!!
