

Natalia Islava, Central Methodist University
PGC 2023 User: NatiLovesNature, Insta @natilovesnature
nataliaislava@gmail.com
DAY 21 Greener

Share your letter and write a short reflection on this experience.

Hey Maria,

I hope this letter brings a smile to your face! I've been feeling all warm and fuzzy thinking about our friendship, and I just had to jot down a few words to let you know how grateful I am to have you in my life.

First things first, your support game is on point! When life threw me curveballs, your shoulder was always there for me to lean on. Your ability to lift me up with your words and encouragement is something I don't take for granted. Even after the whole Brandon situation. And let's talk about your laugh—it's legit my favorite sound on this planet. Seriously, it's contagious! There's something magical about how it turns an ordinary day into a hilarious adventure. Thanks for bringing so much joy and light into my life with that infectious laughter of yours.

You've been my partner in crime in this crazy journey of personal growth. Your nudges and pushes (sometimes gentle, sometimes not-so-gentle) have helped me step out of my comfort zone and discover parts of myself I didn't know existed. Thanks for believing in me, even when I doubted myself.

Who else would understand our level of weirdness? Remember that time we tried to be gourmet chefs and ended up with a kitchen disaster? Operation Masterchefs, we called it! I still laugh every time I think about it. Only we could turn a cooking adventure into a comedy show. Your kindness is like a superhero cape you wear every day. From the small gestures that brighten my day to the times you've been there without me even asking—you're a rockstar. Your generosity has taught me a lot about the true meaning of friendship.

Maria, I just wanted to take a moment to say thank you. Thank you for being an amazing friend, for the laughter, the adventures, the support, and for just being you. Looking forward to more inside jokes and crazy escapades with you.

Here's to us!

Cheers,

Natalia

Handing her that letter was a mix of excitement and a touch of nerves, unsure of how she'd react. Seeing her face light up in surprise and hearing that infectious laugh of hers made my heart swell. Her happiness was all the validation I needed.

We started reminiscing about the "Operation Masterchefs" disaster, laughing like two people who share a secret language. It felt like we were reliving those moments all over again, and it was pure magic.

Reflecting on this experience, I found myself appreciating the power of expressing gratitude. Not only did it make her feel cherished and appreciated, but it also brought a renewed sense of gratitude into my own life. Our friendship, already special, felt even more precious in that moment. Instead of posting the whole letter, which I am okay with (And Maria), I made this for Instagram:

<https://www.instagram.com/p/CyrJyvpuCSB/>

