

Day 24 Greener

I did my best to gather organic and seasonal wastage components in my house. I am happy to inform you that all the items was today's used. Being creative, I have made my Produce Pal named Anya.

This is her,

Anya

Why Compost?

Composting sequesters carbon in the soil. It is a natural, nutrient-rich soil conditioner. When added to garden beds or agricultural fields, it improves soil structure, fertility, and water retention, resulting in healthier and more productive plants.

GRAB YOUR MEAL
Grab only what you'll eat during breakfast or lunch to cut down on food waste from the get-go!

EAT
Enjoy your meal

SORT
Sort your wastage in compostable and non-compostable

REFLECT
Sort your wastage in compostable and non-compostable

TEACH YOUR FRIENDS
Talk to your peers about why composting is important, and invite them to join in being an active part of the solution.

Anya's Look
Top: Half lime
Skirt: Banana Peel
Hair: Onion Peel
Legs: Green Chili

All these items were then used for composting.

Find my Instagram post here:

https://www.instagram.com/p/Cy0oX6QxPmv/?utm\_source=ig\_web\_copy\_link

Screen shot of my post:

Anya

Why Compost?

Composting sequesters carbon in the soil. It is a natural, nutrient-rich soil conditioner. When added to garden beds or agricultural fields, it improves soil structure, fertility, and water retention, resulting in healthier and more productive plants.

GRAB YOUR MEAL
Grab only what you'll eat during breakfast or lunch to cut down on food waste from the get-go!

EAT
Enjoy your meal

SORT
Sort your wastage in compostable and non-compostable

REFLECT
Sort your wastage in compostable and non-compostable

TEACH YOUR FRIENDS
Talk to your peers about why composting is important, and invite them to join in being an active part of the solution.

Stand up for Zero Waste

Anya's Look
Top: Half lime
Skirt: Banana Peel
Hair: Onion Peel
Legs: Green Chili

Be the first to like this
1 MINUTE AGO

Add a comment... Post

Name: Mahmudur Rahman

Username: Saad

Institution: Jahangirnagar University