Poem:

Our Power

“Feels Like Summer”
And we’re up “4 Degrees”
Marvin "What's Goin On?"
He tells me to hear his song
Because the picket lines and picket signs been up for far too long

We need a bipartisan revolution
A confluence of minds
A vote for the people
By the people
Coloring outside the lines
Outside the confines of the societal norm
That ask us to conform

With the "4 minutes" that reside
We cannot hope to hide
Rather with our "Eyes Wide" we decide
To "Make A Little wave"

Because "We Didn't Start The Fire"
But when "Beds are Burning" a generation is yearning
For that "Rocky Mountain High"

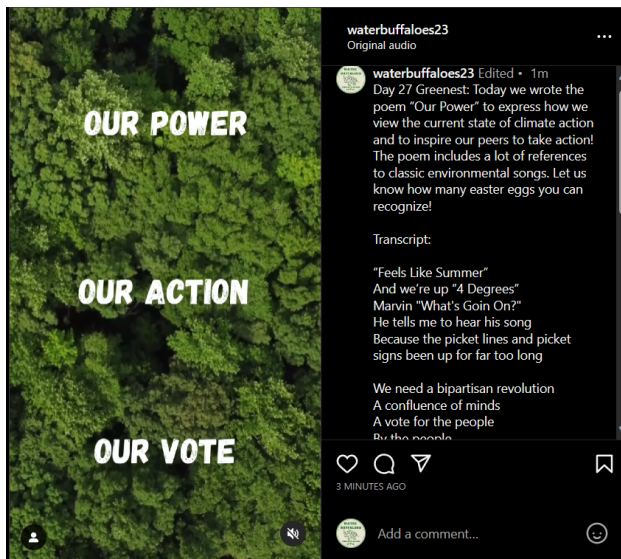

"Mercy Mercy Me"
A cry we students plea
“Time Is Ticking Out”
And there is no “Planet B”

"Don't Go Near The water"

Due to the sin of our forefather
But we must gather now today
Before our planets sent to slaughter

We'll be left with "Nothing But flowers"
If we don't start putting in our hours
Because there is "Truth To Power"
Our power
To "Rejoice In The Sun"
